Proactive security measure for your protection

If you offer credit cards to your members, you know all too well just how difficult it can be to manage their response to just about any VISA Compromised Account Management System (CAMS) alerts with the standard Episys software. When your credit union receives an alert, you must not only track that an alert has been received for each card, you also have to figure out how it will block the compromised cards, re-order new plastic for your members, notify your members, and provide some way to track what's been done.

Upon experiencing this industry vacuum, CUTEK has created a CAMS Alert Processing to fulfill this tracking process. CUTEK is pleased to help your credit union in this area, relieving you of any worry when it comes to compromised credit card accounts. It's quite a proactive security measure for your protection.

With our CAMS Alert Processing, you can be confident that your credit union is covered with tracking software for any alerts to your members' credit card accounts.
